

Nuclear risks

SIR: Robert MacLachlan (Letter, 23 April) says he “would far rather work in a nuclear power station than on a North Sea oil rig”. He is judging the safety of various forms of energy supply on 38. Unfortunately, in the event of a nuclear accident, people within an area of hundreds of square miles share the same risks as those employed on the site. An accident in a coalmine or an oil rig doesn't have the potential to kill thousands who live 20 or 30 miles away.
